

If what you think children are imagineing is reson to fine fox,,won't you have to fine all stations?Those little kids have filthy minds.perhaps TV should be for adults,and the damn kids can go play outside.I didn't see the show in question,because I figured it would be pixelated anyway and MY imagination isn't quite as good as a kids I guess.But last I checked this was a free country.censorship of the arts doesn't sound legal to me.Have you guys considered getting real jobs?
